Best Produce

Even the most accomplished Kangen Gardener has to purchase fruits and veggies to supplement the growing season. Local produce is the second best option to growing your own food. Buying local ensures that you are sampling the best selection of seasonally available produce. Seasonal produce is healthier and fresher, with the added advantage of saving you money since it doesn't have to travel as far as out-of-season goods. Purchasing a share in a CSA (Community-Supported Agriculture) is an awesome way to discover exactly what's in season and support your local farmers.

To find local food near you, go here.

However, there are times when a recipe calls for something that can't be found locally. Always make sure to purchase certified organic produce to reduce your exposure to pesticides and GMO's. Most grocery stores now carry a wide variety of organic fruits and vegetables making it easier than ever to eat cleaner, fresher food. Remember, once you bring home your produce, wash it with Kangen Water®.

Cooking with Kangenwater is just such a delight! It reduces the time, enhances the flavour and especially any sauces get sooooo creamy with the 11.5 - any chef will LOVE this water! translate

I highly recommend washing vegetables with Ph 11.5 and cooking with PH 8.5 -9.5 any type of the rice with this amazing water. You will see a big difference in taste and quality. Since I used this water, my family and I really enjoyed it. Thank you my magic machine. 🙏🙏

Healthy food = healthy family. I soaked a chicken from the store with strong acidic water from my SD501. I almost couldn't eat it as the water was disgusting. And then, I thought - "no, I CAN fix it for my family now, it is CLEAN!!!!" I do not EVER cook without my Kangen Water. The food tastes SO AMAZING, not to mention all of the other "CLEAN" benefits.
